INFORMATION ITEMS

PSTA Hurricane Preparedness – Jeff Thompson, Director of Transportation, and Theo Bakomihalis, Superintendent of Safety, Security and Training, gave a presentation on PSTA's essential role in Pinellas County's Emergency Preparedness for Hurricane Season. Committee members learned that PSTA is designated as one of the primary transportation providers for the evacuation of local citizens to shelters in the event of a hurricane, and provides emergency bus service under the direction of the Pinellas County Director of Emergency Management. Mr. Thompson provided details of PSTA's plan to protect the bus network and assets, communicate emergency information to its employees and customers, re-route buses to take evacuees to and from shelters, and effectively suspend service with sustained winds of over 45 miles per hour.

Mr. Bakomilhalis informed Committee members how the PSTA radio communication center informs drivers of detours during local and major weather emergencies, and how long it can take to resume normal service after such emergencies. There were a few questions about the coordination of bus service suspension and how riders are kept informed during emergencies. Mr. Thompson addressed all questions and reiterated that there will be two emergency phone numbers for PSTA (one for employees and one for customers) to call for the latest update of bus service during weather emergencies. He added that in the event of a loss of power, PSTA has a back-up server on the Cloud to continue essential communications with our staff and customers.

MEMBER COMMENTS

Mr. Shulman informally raised the issue of the proposed bus driver safety barriers to the Committee to get their perspective as regular bus riders. Several members provided feedback and discussed the pros and cons of the protective barriers. TRAC did not take any formal action, and all agreed how much they appreciate the men and women of PSTA, especially our drivers.

ADJOURNMENT

The meeting was adjourned at 5:05 PM. The next TRAC meeting will be held on July 16, 2019 at 4:00 PM.
